Dear all

The sound of Christmas songs is starting to fill our corridors with rehearsals for various performances under way. We start with our Carol Concert next Tuesday when I hope to see lots of you come along. Sadly, due to the limited capacity of our hall, and in order to meet fire regulations, you will need to have tickets to attend our performances. Details of how to do this have been sent to relevant parents and carers.

We have another staff vacancy. If having looked at the person specification, you or someone you know is interested, please get in touch. Link here:

Best wishes for a happy weekend.

Winter Fair - Volunteers Required

Our volunteer sign up sheet for our Winter Fair on Friday 12th December is now live!

Help is needed across the day - from set up, running of stalls and clear up.

If you are able to volunteer some time, please pop your name down against one (or more!) of the available slots. You will then be contacted the week of the event to let you know which area of the event you will be helping in.

PARENT ZONE

Sound & Song Generations

Singing makes you happier and healthier!

Singing is a powerful mood booster and anti-depressant, which is wonderful for anyone experiencing low mood or isolation.

Come and join us! Release feel good hormones while making new friends.

Sessions include:

- Time to connect with other women in the group.
- Learn new songs to take home and sing.
- Cake and a cuppa on us!

Wellbeing across generations

At our intergenerational singing support groups we invite mums and older women experiencing low mood, anxiety or isolation to connect through the universal language of song. We bring together voices of all ages. Whether you're 18 or 80, your voice matters here.

No previous singing experience required. All welcome.

For community

Sound and Song is a not-for-profit Community Interest Company.

We use singing to promote health and well-being for everyone.

Frequently asked Questions

Am I eligible to join?

The programme is designed to help mums or older women experiencing low mood, anxiety, stress, social isolation or symptoms of postnatal depression and is open to self-refer.

Do I need any singing experience to take part?

No! Not at all. We welcome shy singers, non-singers and karaoke divas all the same. We're not a performance choir and nobody will ever be asked to sing a solo.
